ECONOMIC PEACE URGED BY SOVIET SPOKESMAN

Maxim Litvinoff at Geneva Says Efforts of Capitalists to Maintain High Prices Will Prolong World Depression.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, May 18.—Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Russia's delegate to the commission on a Pan-European Pact, today proposed the conclusion of "a pact of economic non-aggression" as the commission resumed its sessions.

Previously Germany and Austria, France, Great Britain and Italy had agreed to submit the proposed Austro-German customs accord to the World Court at The Hague for an advisory opinion.

Campaigns against Soviet Russia, Litvinoff told the other statesmen, never will diminish the severity of the economic crisis in capitalistic states.

"Let the states represented here adopt a general convention," he said, "providing for compulsory sale of commodities in home markets at the same low prices which prevail abroad."

Challenging the Soviet dumping argument, the economic depression was "inconceivably silly," he declared, adding that by developing ultimate commercial relations with the Soviet Union the capitalistic states will mitigate the burden of the economic crisis.

Russia Untouched, He Says.

Litvinoff spoke with gravity. He told the commission that his country, which has blighted the rest of the world, is experiencing unprecedented development.

"Relations to be established between the capitalistic states and the Soviet Union," he said, "cannot fail to react upon the course of the present world crisis. The world depression will be prolonged by the efforts of capitalistic to maintain high prices in domestic markets."

He went into considerable detail to refute charges that Soviet exports aggravate the general depression. "Russian products have a quite modest place in the world's trade," he said. "Indeed this economic crisis appeared before the Soviet Union was born. It would have been worse than it is if there were a bourgeois Government in Russia."

The Soviet Union is not the culprit in this failing world market, our imports are increasing every year. We are not responsible for world depression."

Outline Causes of Depression.

The commission, he said, ought to direct its efforts against certain phenomena which underlie the depression. Heavy taxation, for example, which has resulted from the tempo of militarism as a result of which, he said, the Kellogg pact, military blocs are preparing new wars; increasing economic rivalry between capitalistic states; the burden of reparations and inter-Allied debts; the distribution of gold reserves."

These factors, he declared, are creating a general atmosphere of gloom. The capitalistic countries said he, "are making this the starting point of military campaigns against the Soviet Union."

Arthur Henderson, British Foreign Secretary, proposed the action taken on the proposed Austro-German customs accord, pointing out that legality of the accord was questioned under the treaty of St. Germain and the Geneva protocol of 1922.

Dr. Johann Schöber, Austrian Foreign Minister, agreed to the proposal but placed a spirited defense of Austria's integrity on the record. He denied the French charge that his country was violating the Geneva protocol guaranteeing Austrian political independence when it negotiated with Germany for the projected union. He denied also that the Austria-German alliance threatened the most favored nation clause, and he denied that the negotiations had been conducted in secret.

The projected treaty, he said, does not leave it to Germany to regulate the economic policies of American Telephone Under $160, Lowest in Four Years on New York Exchange.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Common stocks of the country's largest and oldest corporations broke severely on the New York Stock Exchange today, establishing new lows which in many instances had not been touched in several years.

Heavy selling of American Telephone, which sold below $160 a share for the first time since 1927, and sharp declines in most of the railroad issues were outstanding features of the session. Trading, however, was not unusually active, and the day's sales were about 2,500,000 shares.

Steel common, after selling below $100 in the morning, for the first time since 1924, recovered part of its loss during a general mid-afternoon rally, but the improvement was short lived, and the day's lowest quotations were established the final dealing when Steel sold below $90 a share.

Chief Justice Hughes, Justice Brandeis, Justice Holmes and Justice Stone joined with Roberts in the majority opinion.

Justice Sutherland stated that Justices Van Devanter, McReynolds and Butler joined him in dissenting. He said they thought that the decision of the lower courts holding the tax invalid should have been approved.

Justice Sutherland, in delivering the dissenting views, insisted the tax was a distinct and unconstitutional discrimination against chain stores and should have been held invalid.

The case had unusual interest because of the growth of chain stores during the last 10 years and protests from independent merchants and others, who contended that the ultimate effect of the stores, if allowed to spread unchecked, would be bad.

Laws placing a heavy tax upon chain stores were passed in a number of other states and at present North Carolina's tax on chain stores is pending before the Supreme Court for a decision on its validity.

Justice Roberts in his majority opinion said that the principles which govern the case were well settled.

The power of taxation is fundamental to the very existence of the government of the states," he said.

"The restriction that it shall not be so exercised as to deny to any the equal protection of the laws does not compel the adoption of an iron rule of equal taxation, nor prevent variety or differences in taxation, or discriminate in the selection of subjects for the classification for taxation of properties, businesses, trades, callings or occupations."

"It is not the function of this court in cases like the present to consider the propriety or justness of the tax, to seek for the motives of the tax, or to criticize the public policy which prompted the tax. Our duty is to sustain the classification adopted by the Legislature if there are substantial differences between the occupations separately classified. Such differences need not be great. The past decisions of the court made this abundantly clear."

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—Police in cities between Philadelphia and Montreal have been asked to search for Mrs. Margaret McCaffrey, 60 years old, who left her Thursday to see her son in Montreal before he was hanged. She has not been seen since.

Tommy McCaffrey, the son, is searching for the slaying of a Montreal man. News of his impending death reached Mrs. McCaffrey only a few hours before she started for the Canadian city, members of her family said. They fear she may have lost her mind after leaving here.

McCaffrey, alias Tommy McHugh, was one of four men convicted of murdering C. Cameron Cook, in December, 1929.

Travelers, who said they witnessed the lynching, told how the officer shot and killed one of a group of persons who sought to rescue him at a hotel where he was living. A mob formed, beating him to death and throwing his body into the sea before the police could intervene.

The Popular Assembly has asked the municipality to pay the funeral expenses of Salazar's victim.

U. S. Supreme Court Dismisses Arizona's Complaint Without Prejudice to Further Action.

THIS PERMITS WORK TO GO ON

It May Be Tied Up, However, Should State Sue Again — Justice McReynolds Dissents.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 18.—The law authorizing the construction of Hoover Dam on the Colorado River was sustained as constitutional today by the Supreme Court.

Arizona's bill of complaint was dismissed by the court without prejudice to her right to proceed further in the matter should it later develop that any of the rights were being impaired.

Arizona succeeded in showing the court that it may suffer injury as a result of distribution of water from no reservoir. If at any time in the future her rights to water from the river should be impaired the court said that the state might take appropriate legal action but that it could not deliver a judgment based on the assumption that the state's rights would be impaired.

Arizona, in the complaint, questioned the constitutionality of the law and asked the Supreme Court to prohibit the Interior Department from carrying out its provisions. The state also challenged the Colorado River compact.

Justice Brandeis in delivering the opinion said Arizona had claimed a right to take from the river as much as 300,000 acre feet of water but that it had not appropriated that amount of water and had failed to show that the construction of the dam and reservoir would deprive it of any water now being taken.

The State would have the right, he said, to come into court at any time it could show that the construction of the dam and reservoir was depriving it of water to a water to which it claimed a right.

Justice McReynolds dissented, taking the view that the Government's motion to dismiss should be overruled and that the United States and the other states in the Colorado River compact should be required to answer the complaint of Arizona.

Invasion of State's Rights.

Justice Brandeis said that Arizona asserted that the building of the dam and reservoir without securing the approval of state officials was a threatened invasion of the quasi-sovereignty of Arizona and that the water apportionment outlined was also a threatened invasion of state's rights.

The United States may perform its functions without conforming to the police regulations of a state, Justice Brandeis said. "If Congress has power to authorize the construction of the dam and reservoir, then Secretary Wilbur is under no obligation to submit the plans and specifications to the state engineer for approval."

"And the Federal Government has the power to create this obstruction in the river for the purpose of improving navigation if the Colorado River is navigable."

"It is true that whether a stream is navigable depends upon whether it is navigable in fact. But a court may take judicial notice that a river within its jurisdiction is navigable. We know judicially, from the evidence of history, that a large part of the Colorado River south of Black Canyon was formerly navigable, and that the main obstacle to navigation have been, the accumulations of sand coming from the upper reaches of the river system, and the irregularity in the flow due to periods of low water."

Congress Within Its Rights.

Justice Brandeis said the court could not inquire into the motives which induced members of Congress to pass the Hoover Dam act.

"The act declares that the authority to construct the dam and reservoir is conferred. Justice Brandeis said, and the authority for the purpose of improving navigation and regulating the flow of the river." As the river is navigable and the means which the act provides are not unrelated to the control of navigation, the erection and maintenance of such a dam and reservoir are clearly within the power of Congress.

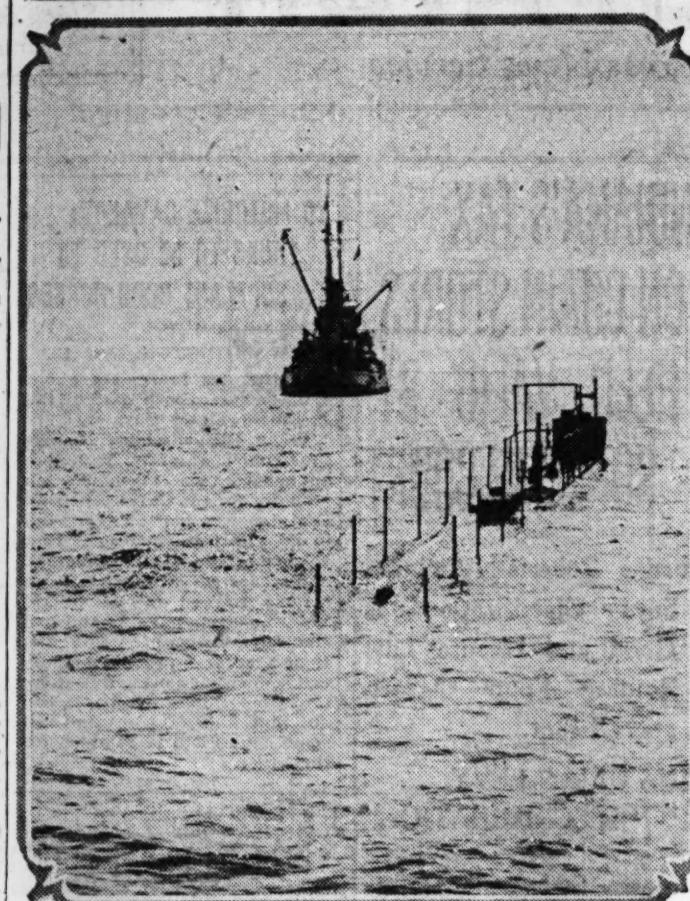

Whether the particular measures proposed are reasonably necessary is not for this court to determine." Justice Brandeis said that the dam and reservoir also might have been constructed under the authority conferred upon Congress to irrigate public lands but it was not necessary to go into that question because the court decided that Congress had the power to order Hoover dam constructed to improve navigation.

Arizona in its complaint, disputed the assertions contained in the law that it was in aid of navigation, and for the reclamation of public lands. It claimed the purpose of the act was, in fact, irrigation and power.

ADmits $36,000
EMBEZZLEMENT IN EMMERSON'S BANK

W. A. Wilkerson, Former Assistant Cashier at Mt.
Vernon, Appears for Sentence Disclosing Facts.

A shortage of $36,835.30 in the accounts of William A. Wilkerson, former assistant cashier of the Third National Bank of Mount Vernon, Ill., whose president is Gov. Emmerson of Illinois, was made public today.

It was disclosed when Wilkerson, who had pleaded guilty at Danville on March 24 to making a false entry in violation of the Federal banking code, appeared at East St. Louis before District Judge Wham, and was sentenced to three years in the Federal Reformatory at Chillicothe, O.

A report of a Department of Justice auditor, read in court by United States Attorney Baker, traced the discrepancies to manipulation of the bond account of the bank and to the juggling of customer accounts. Full restitution has been made, it was announced, and the bank lost nothing through the peculations.

The shortage was first discovered by E. A. Von Arp, national bank examiner for the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, who is now cashier.

Governor's "Right-Hand-Man" was indicted by the Federal auditor in his report as "the right-hand man of Gov. Louis L. Emmerson (president of the Third National Bank), attending to such personal matters as making out the governor's income tax returns, etc."

Before appearing for sentence Wilkerson's attorney filed a plea of guilty to reduce the client's sentence to 18 months, and it was agreed to it were letters from the board of directors of the bank and from leading citizens of Mount Vernon, including Gov. Emmerson. In his plea for probation Wilkerson ascribed his embezzlements to an abnormal state of mind caused by heavy drinking. His salary, the Court was told, was $3,000 a year.

Since discovery of the shortage Wilkerson has turned over the responsibility to his brother, W. N. Wilkerson, for purposes of restitution.

Books in Muddled State.

The Department of Justice auditor who checked Wilkerson's books found them in a muddled state. Among the items of interest in the early stages of the audit was a joint account of Wilkerson and Rufus Grant, then cashier, but now vice president of the bank.

The submarine will encounter neither icebergs nor solid ice and the floating ice will not be more than 12 feet thick, he says. But there is fog in the polar region during July, and the Graf might have trouble with ice forming on its frame.

"In the polar basin there is only drifting ice, no icebergs," he said, from the river to which he was not entitled, and also for the generation of hydro-electric current for the benefit of others than citizens of Arizona. It also denied that the act could benefit navigation on the river by flood control.

The six states parties to the Colorado River compact, including Secretary Wilbur, when served with complaint of Arizona, asked the Court to dismiss it, contending it presented no Federal question within the jurisdiction of the court.

They said Arizona at present was suffering no injury which would permit it to maintain a suit to enjoin the construction of the dam. But Secretary Wilbur is under no obligation to submit the plans and specifications to the state engineer for approval.

Doak said he had been advised of the review which they will stage in Chicago Wednesday.

Riot of 400 Convicts Reported.

By the Associated Press.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, May 18.—Reports from Curitiba in the State of Paraná, told of an escape of 400 prisoners in the penitentiary there had been suppressed after two guards and two prisoners were killed. Nine persons, including five soldiers, were injured seriously. Ten prisoners escaped but six later were caught.

Before appearing for sentence

Wilkerson's attorney filed a plea of guilty to reduce the client's sentence to 18 months, and it was agreed to it were letters from the board of directors of the bank and from leading citizens of Mount Vernon, including Gov. Emmerson. In his plea for probation Wilkerson ascribed his embezzlements to an abnormal state of mind caused by heavy drinking. His salary, the Court was told, was $3,000 a year.

Since discovery of the shortage Wilkerson has turned over the responsibility to his brother, W. N. Wilkerson, for purposes of restitution.

Books in Muddled State.

When the auditor made his report political pressure was brought to bear in Washington by the Emerson political group to prevent prosecution. Finally, however, Wilkerson was indicted last fall, and was arrested in Portland, Ore., where he was then making his home.

"In the polar basin there is only drifting ice, no icebergs," he said, from the river to which he was not entitled, and also for the generation of hydro-electric current for the benefit of others than citizens of Arizona. It also denied that the act could benefit navigation on the river by flood control.

The six states parties to the Colorado River compact, including Secretary Wilbur, when served with complaint of Arizona, asked the Court to dismiss it, contending it presented no Federal question within the jurisdiction of the court.

They said Arizona at present was suffering no injury which would permit it to maintain a suit to enjoin the construction of the dam.

"But Secretary Wilbur is under no obligation to submit the plans and specifications to the state engineer for approval.

"And the Federal Government has the power to create this obstruction in the river for the purpose of improving navigation if the Colorado River is navigable."

"It is true that whether a stream is navigable depends upon whether it is navigable in fact. But a court may take judicial notice that a river within its jurisdiction is navigable. We know judicially, from the evidence of history, that a large part of the Colorado River south of Black Canyon was formerly navigable, and that the main obstacle to navigation have been, the accumulations of sand coming from the upper reaches of the river system, and the irregularity in the flow due to periods of low water."

Congress Within Its Rights.

Justice Brandeis said the court could not inquire into the motives which induced members of Congress to pass the Hoover Dam act.

CONGRESSMAN ASKS PRESIDENT TO ACT TO SAVE STEEL PLANT
Brum of Pennsylvania Says Bethlehem Company Bought Facility to Junk It.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—President Hoover was asked by Representative Brum of Pennsylvania today to intervene to prevent demolition of a steel plant at Pottsville, Pa. Brum said otherwise the Bethlehem Steel Co. would begin tearing down the plant tomorrow. He added the President promised to do what he could.

Charging the Bethlehem Steel Co. bought the plant to junk it, Brum already had asked the Department of Justice to ascertain whether the company was guilty of violating the antitrust laws.

Brum said he told the President the company had given orders to begin demolition tomorrow. He predicted disorders would follow if the plans were carried out.

WORLD ECONOMIC PEACE ADVOCATED BY SOVIET AGENT

the two contracting states, for the respective Parliaments retain equal authority to arrange customs agreements with other nations. Throughout their negotiations, he declared, Germany and Austria had constantly in mind both the Geneva protocol and the St. Germain treaty.

"We must declare strongly," he said, "that our announcement that this agreement was constructed upon an exactly equal footing of both nations must be taken seriously. Austria will by no means surrender her economic independence.

"If the Powers are so greatly concerned over this matter as to infringe Austria's sovereign right to negotiate treaties, then indeed is our economic independence destroyed."

The two Germanic states agreed to go no further with their negotiations pending the World Court decision which is expected during the summer, before the Council meets again in September.

On the side, Brum said, he planned to submit the issue to the World Court, but he reaffirmed his country's objections to the union on the ground that it compromised Austria's economic freedom and violated the two treaties.

He emphasized that the League Council, guardian of Austria's independence, knew nothing of the customs accord until it was agreed to by the great Austrian statesmen. Prince Metternich, "a nation cannot maintain its independence if it forms too close relations with another."

Dino Grandi, Italian Foreign Minister, agreed for his nation, asserting that it is not always possible to distinguish between political and economic elements. Italian economists, he said, are not convinced that the customs union system is the best for the rehabilitation of Europe.

Young Man Also Wounds Manager of Washington Establishment—Notes Indicate Despondency.

FEARED HE COULDN'T RANK WITH FATHER

Graduate of Princeton Was Son of Col. Montgomery, Secretary of War Policies Commission.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 18.—A theory that Robert S. Montgomery, prominent in New York and Boston, was suffering from despair and worry when he shot two men and killed himself in a night club early yesterday, gained credence today through notes found among his effects.

Refused a table at the club, Montgomery shot the manager, Charles Garbett, killed a policeman who attempted to block his escape, and shot two bullets into his own chest as he reached the sidewalk. Garbett's condition was described today as "fair," and physician said he would improve unless complications set in. A bullet entered his lung.

Treasurer Brunk's Trial Begins, New Evidence Bared

It is the expectation that the motion will be overruled on the ground that in a case of this character a decision should come after hearing evidence and not on a technicality.

Colonel Banks, I Don't

"I'm not a member of a number of generations," his godson said. "The Colonel is it. The next one can't be expected for 100 years. I've tried to live up to it. I can't. He ranks it don't."

In Montgomery's pockets, searched immediately after his death, was found another note. It said:

"Call Miss Norvel Munford tomorrow afternoon for dinner if convenient."

Although police were reluctant to discuss either the motives or facts of the crime, it was determined that Montgomery had gone to the club with a Washington woman whom he had met several days previously. While there he met Miss Munford and danced with her.

After taking his companion home, Montgomery returned to the club alone and asked for a table. When none was available, he drew a service revolver, shot the manager and dashed for the stairs, while the orchestra leader, sensing trouble, carried on the music for nearly an hour. Witness said Munford and her escort had left the club when the shooting occurred.

Dancers Pay No Attention.

Jesse Taylor, the policeman who attempted to block his exit, was shot twice below the heart. As Montgomery reached the sidewalk taxicab drivers said he walked calmly behind a car, fired one shot into his chest, stepped back on the sidewalk and shot himself again. Col. Montgomery took his son's body to New York last night for burial. No inquest was held needed.

Insists Brunk Didn't Know.

Pape insisted that Brunk did not know the collections were being taken, but said that in each instance Brunk took the money and did not direct that it be returned.

Under questioning, he said that the collections were kept confidential among the employees because "some people might put a wrong slant on it." He denied that any employees were threatened with loss of their jobs if they failed to contribute, and said that some failed to contribute each month, though he believed that all contributed at some time.

Blepharitis testified to contributions he had made, as did Mrs. Griffin.

Three Are Committed to Trial in Broadstreet Press Case.

LONDON, May 18.—Three defendants in the so-called "Broadstreet Press Case," were committed for trial and allowed bail at Guildhall Court today. They were Herbert John Speller, Frederick Newbury and Barnett Leon Elman. All are alleged to have conspired with Jacob Factor and Jack (Legs) Diamond, New York gangster, figures in these reports. Diamond, at the time of his unsuccessful attempt to enter England last summer, is said to have been seeking a show-down with Factor, who had accepted his aid in the past but had failed to give Diamond a "split" on the proceeds of ventures in which Diamond had "staked" him.

Acting Mayor Neun intervened in the dispute last Thursday, the day after the 3,500 union members, by almost unanimous vote had authorized their officers to call a strike if no satisfactory arrangement for a settlement were reached by midnight tomorrow. Charles G. Wood, a conciliator of the United States Department of Labor, was sent here from Washington at Neun's request to participate in the conference.

Louis Kehlner, 75 years old, 1628 Franklin Avenue, died yesterday at City Hospital from the effects of gas poisoning suffered last Thursday when he was warming beside a gas stove, one burner of which was open, but unlighted.

PHOTOS MADE ON FILM THAT ALWAYS MOVES

New Invention Said to Eliminate Flicker and Allow Longer Exposure.

By the Associated Press.
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 18.—A young Mexican optical engineer, Gabriel Garcia Moreno, has invented what he and his associates claim is the first practical motion picture camera with a continuous movement of film.

This improvement may revolutionize the photographic end of the motion picture industry.

Such cameras as have thus far been built on the intermittent plan by which the film is driven before the aperture one frame or picture, at a time.

In Moreno's camera the film flows smoothly and continuously before the aperture without pause for exposure. The continuous movement, therefore, requires no shutter, such as in all cameras to date, is free from vibration and is silent.

At the new standard intermittent film speed of 50 feet a minute the exposure time per picture frame is one-forty-eighth of a second. With the continuous camera, and at a continuous film speed of 90 feet per minute, the exposure time per picture is about two-fifths longer, or one-twenty-fourth of a second.

The result is a standard exposure with 50 per cent less illumination, thereby increasing photographic values, and cutting the cost.

Other advantages Moreno claims for his camera include its possibilities for photography in natural colors due to the longer exposure.

The invention applies the continuous principle to projection machines. Among its advantages are the elimination of the flicker and less danger from fire, as the amount of light is cut in half.

Moreno worked as a bank clerk in the city of Mexico, Juarez, and Laredo, Mexico, to make enough money to carry on his experiments.

FRENCHMAN HELD IN GERMANY

Planes of Army Flyers Sealed Pending Diplomatic Inquiry.

By the Associated Press.
SCHWEINFURT, Bavaria, Germany, May 18.—Three French army aviators were arrested in a hotel here after they landed Saturday night after circling over the town. Their planes, of the modern French army type, were sealed, pending diplomatic inquiry.

The pilots explained they were flying from Lyons to Colmar in Alsace-Lorraine, lost their bearings and had to land because of lack of fuel.

Warning on Counterfeits Bills.
DUQUOIN, Ill., May 18.—Officials say counterfeit gold certificates in $10 and $20 denominations have been passed in Southern Illinois. Banks have been asked to be on the lookout.

Seldom, indeed, does it fall to the lot of any store to offer furniture of this calibre at less than standard value. I have been years since we allowed ourselves even to consider purchases of this kind . . . because, frankly, have seldom found worthy the character of merchandise and the extraordinary values we could justly enthuse about. But our hesitancy was swept aside in making outright purchase of the Prufrock-Litton Furniture Co.'s entire stock

Because here was a house enjoying a national reputation for Furniture, "Built to a Standard, Not Down to a Price" . . . their proud slogan for many years . . . Here was a season when the consuming public was just waiting and conditions were just right for a real value-thrill! Here was a magnificent collection of supremely well-made Furniture that . . . as St. Louis' Dominant Store . . . we could buy to extreme advantage . . . and which we are now placing on sale in our own store at a fraction of their former prices. Ridiculously low prices for Furniture of Prufrock-Litton's nationally famed standard. Only one or two pieces of a kind but a tremendous assortment . . . so we urge you to select early.

Tuesday the curtain rises on an event that gives every family in St. Louis the opportunity to buy furniture for every room at savings which make it advisable to anticipate future needs.

Everything in the sale bears Prufrock-Litton's original price tag . . . so you can see exactly how much you save!

9 KILLED IN ELECTION DISORDERS IN EGYPT

30 Others Wounded; Six Killed
When Troops Fire Into Crowd.

By the Associated Press.
CAIRO, Egypt, May 18—Nineteen persons were killed and 30 wounded in election disturbances during the week-end.

The most serious disorder was a fight Saturday night between troops and rioters at Mitgama in lower Egypt after the beating to death of a sub-commandant of police. The soldiers fired into a group of demonstrators there after the unruly crowd had started throwing stones.

Other disturbances were reported, including the demolition of a passenger train near Damietta. This caused no casualties.

Ballot boxes were stolen in various provincial districts.

The clashes were due to tension between the Government of Premier Sidky Pasha and a coalition of Wafdist (Nationalists) and Liberals.

The Wafdist and Liberalists instituted a vigorous campaign to boycott the elections, refusing the recognize the revised electoral system.

Prior to last June when the Wafdist held office the constitution provided for election of members of the chamber by direct universal suffrage. When Sidky took office he introduced the present indirect system under which the country votes for delegates who then elect the members of Parliament.

It is the election of delegates which now is proceeding. The delegates are scheduled to choose members of Parliament June 1.

The bitterness of the present campaign is intensified by the prohibition of the proposed Wafdist National Congress.

It is with a glow of deep personal satisfaction that I have concluded this transaction with Famous-Barr Company, whereby they have acquired the entire stock of merchandise of the Prufrock-Litton Furniture Company.

For I feel that I have placed a trust in the worthy hands of a firm whose high reputation and fine methods of merchandising parallel the integrity that the name "Prufrock" has consistently upheld for sixty-one years.

U. S. AIRWAYS SYSTEM BEST IN WORLD, OFFICIAL SAYS

130,000 Miles a Day Being Flown in Scheduled Service. He Reports to President.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Clarence M. Young, Assistant Secretary of Commerce in charge of aviation, has told President Hoover that the Federal Airways System is superior to any in the world. When completed, he said, the system will total about 25,000 miles of lighted airways, equipped with every practicable aid to air navigation.

Young said progress in air transport operations has been of the most gratifying character. Operating first in the United States, last year a total of 40,000,000 miles had been flown; 418,000 passengers carried and 9,100,000 pounds of mail and 2,250,000 pounds of express transported.

A total of 650 aircraft, valued at $14,000,000, is now being employed by 44 companies on 125 routes in the United States, and to Canada and Central and South America. He said aircraft in scheduled service are flying more than 130,000 miles every 24 hours, an increase of more than 25,000 miles in a year.

DOES!4 AUTO DEATHS
IN ST. LOUIS AREA
OVER WEEK-END

Michael T. Ahearn Fatally Hurt in East St. Louis by Driver Who Fails to Stop.

Four persons died over the weekend of injuries suffered in automobile accidents.

Michael T. Ahearn, an automobile salesman, was killed last night at Lynch avenue and Twenty-first street, East St. Louis, by an automobile, the driver of which failed to stop.

Ahearn had been riding with his wife, Pearl, and their daughter, when their machine stalled. Obtaining another car he started his own machine by pushing it. As he alighted from the second automobile he was struck by a Ford sedan. He was 39 years old and lived at 2044 North Park drive, East St. Louis.

Stephen R. Johnson, 70 years old, an employee of the city waterworks, died at City Hospital Saturday night of a fractured skull suffered May 9 when he was struck by an automobile at Broadway and East Grand avenue. John J. Walsh, 1116A Newhouse avenue, driver of the car, was struck by Johnson, recited at 2344 Whittemore place.

An open verdict was returned by the Coroner today in Johnson's death. Police reported that no eyewitnesses had been found. It is expected Walsh will be discharged on his bond when he appears in court next Thursday unless new evidence is found.

Mary King, a Negro, 1 year old, was killed Saturday when an automobile, driven by her father, Henry, 2944 Cass avenue, overturned after a collision with another automobile at Cass and Leflingham avenues. Mrs. Anna King, mother of the child, was cut and bruised, and Laura Washington, 1009 High street, suffered a fractured arm. King's car was involved with another driven by George Fox, a Negro, 1056A Elliot avenue.

Bertha Hawthorne, 21-year-old Negro, of Kinloch Park, died today at the People's Hospital of injuries suffered last Friday when she was struck by a bus in St. Louis County. Death resulted from a fractured skull.

Record of Automobile Casualties

Here and on East Side.

Fred Worley, a cook at the city workhouse, suffered fractures of the skull and leg when struck in front of the workhouse by an automobile, the driver of which failed to stop.

Mrs. Alma Carter, 4615 Moraine avenue, suffered a fractured arm when she was struck in the head while riding with her husband, Walter, and Floyd Sanders, 1915 De Soto avenue, upset after colliding with another automobile at Twentieth street and Bremen avenue.

Frank Scoggins, a chauffeur, 1829 South Tenth street, suffered a fractured skull when hit by a machine driven by Edward Miller, 1719A South Avenue, in front of 1894 South Twelfth street.

An unidentified Negro, about 65 years old, is at City Hospital No. 2 with a fractured skull, suffered when he was struck by an automobile driven by Joseph Verguts, 555 Lansdowne avenue, at Oakland and Tammie avenues.

Three East St. Louis High School students and Richard W. Ropiequet, 1818 St. Louis attorney, were injured when their automobile ran off the highway near Greenville, Ill., and upset in a ditch. The students are: Willis Carl, 3029 North Park boulevard; Frank Kavalier, 316 East Broadway, and Howard Gipfel of Fairview. All were cut and bruised. The party was returning home from a track meet at Urbana, Ill. Ropiequet, who lives at 1210 College avenue, is a member of the high school athletic board.

HOOVER ORDERS MORE SURVEYS TO CUT COST OF GOVERNMENT

Directs Treasury, Postoffice and Department of Agriculture to suggest economies.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—President Hoover has instructed the Treasury, the Postoffice and the Department of Agriculture to make surveys with a view to cutting down expenditures.

With economies proposed for the War and Interior departments, the President will choose from among these three departments a non-military branch that will be taken up at his next week-end meeting.

The $17,000,000 savings to be effected by the Interior Department between now and July, 1932, under the program adopted at the President's mountain camp Saturday will be virtually all achieved through postponement of non-essential capital outlays.

The efficiency of each branch of the department would be kept absolutely intact, Secretary Wilbur said today, and no vitally important work would be postponed. None of the officials would discuss details of the program.

Both the park service and the Geological Survey have considerable funds appropriated which may be spent only when matched by local communities, the latter initiative. Because of present business conditions it is considered unlikely that much of this money will be matched immediately.

The Frocks Illustrated:

A—All-white crepe frock with scarf neckline and pearl buttons completing its attractiveness. Sizes 14-20.

C—Simplicity is the keynote in a delicate frock of Lantern Glow Yellow. Note the unusual treatment of pleats. Sizes 14-42.

D—The finely pleated collar edge gives this white frock a distinctly tailored appearance. It has the new short sleeve length. Sizes 38-44.

TELLS HOW SHARK KNOCKED HIM INTO SEA AT CANAL ZONE

Former Congressman E. E. Denison Addresses Rotary Club at Marion, Ill.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. MARION, Ill., May 18.—Back at his home here after spending several weeks vacationing in the Panama Canal Zone as the guest of the Governor-General and Government appointees there, ex-Congressman E. E. Denison told the Marion Rotary Club how he feels to be trapped in a shark-infested sea by the tail of a wounded tiger shark—and how to be rescued.

The former Congressman, with friends on a fishing trip, hooked a shark. After he had reeled the shark in near the boat, another member of the party wounded the fish with two shots. The wounded fish then turned and bit the boat and Denison, who was standing up, was struck by the tail and went overboard.

"I lost no time in the water and, with the help of friends, got back into the boat as quickly as I could," the former Congressman related.

Ahearn had been riding with his wife, Pearl, and their daughter, when their machine stalled. Obtaining another car he started his own machine by pushing it. As he alighted from the second automobile he was struck by a Ford sedan.

He was 39 years old and lived at 2044 North Park drive, East St. Louis.

Stephen R. Johnson, 70 years old, an employee of the city waterworks, died at City Hospital Saturday night of a fractured skull suffered May 9 when he was struck by an automobile at Broadway and East Grand avenue. John J. Walsh, 1116A Newhouse avenue, driver of the car, was struck by Johnson, recited at 2344 Whittemore place.

An open verdict was returned by the Coroner today in Johnson's death. Police reported that no eyewitnesses had been found. It is expected Walsh will be discharged on his bond when he appears in court next Thursday unless new evidence is found.

Mary King, a Negro, 1 year old, was killed Saturday when an automobile, driven by her father, Henry, 2944 Cass avenue, overturned after a collision with another automobile at Cass and Leflingham avenues. Mrs. Anna King, mother of the child, was cut and bruised, and Laura Washington, 1009 High street, suffered a fractured arm. King's car was involved with another driven by George Fox, a Negro, 1056A Elliot avenue.

Bertha Hawthorne, 21-year-old Negro, of Kinloch Park, died today at the People's Hospital of injuries suffered last Friday when she was struck by a bus in St. Louis County. Death resulted from a fractured skull.

Record of Automobile Casualties

Here and on East Side.

Fred Worley, a cook at the city workhouse, suffered fractures of the skull and leg when struck in front of the workhouse by an automobile, the driver of which failed to stop.

Mrs. Alma Carter, 4615 Moraine avenue, suffered a fractured arm when she was struck in the head while riding with her husband, Walter, and Floyd Sanders, 1915 De Soto avenue, upset after colliding with another automobile at Twentieth street and Bremen avenue.

Frank Scoggins, a chauffeur, 1829 South Tenth street, suffered a fractured skull when hit by a machine driven by Edward Miller, 1719A South Avenue, in front of 1894 South Twelfth street.

An unidentified Negro, about 65 years old, is at City Hospital No. 2 with a fractured skull, suffered when he was struck by an automobile driven by Joseph Verguts, 555 Lansdowne avenue, at Oakland and Tammie avenues.

Three East St. Louis High School students and Richard W. Ropiequet, 1818 St. Louis attorney, were injured when their automobile ran off the highway near Greenville, Ill., and upset in a ditch. The students are: Willis Carl, 3029 North Park boulevard; Frank Kavalier, 316 East Broadway, and Howard Gipfel of Fairview. All were cut and bruised. The party was returning home from a track meet at Urbana, Ill. Ropiequet, who lives at 1210 College avenue, is a member of the high school athletic board.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—President Hoover has instructed the Treasury, the Postoffice and the Department of Agriculture to make surveys with a view to cutting down expenditures.

With economies proposed for the War and Interior departments, the President will choose from among these three departments a non-military branch that will be taken up at his next week-end meeting.

ESTRANGED HUSBAND SHOOTS FLEEING WIFE

Mrs. Jessie Sowards Wounded in Head After Jumping From Automobile.

Mrs. Jessie Sowards, 26 years old, 1428A Dolman street, was shot in the head and seriously injured last night by her estranged husband, Charles Sowards, 32, a salesman, 3720 Delmar boulevard.

The shooting occurred on the sidewalk in front of 1711 Carroll street as Mrs. Sowards fled from her husband.

Taken to the City Hospital, Mrs. Sowards said she had been riding with her husband in his automobile and had returned home to keep an appointment with a friend.

The friend had called and departed as Sowards had thrown away the pistol. Mr. and Mrs. Sowards had been separated for seven months and had quarreled on occasional meetings. In March Mrs. Sowards caused her husband's arrest on a peace disturbance charge.

WATER TOWER, BUILT IN SHOPS OF FIRE DEPARTMENT, TESTED
Costs Less Than Apparatus From Factory; Delivers 5500 Gallons a Minute.

A water tower, built in its shop at a cost of $3000, received its first trial under working conditions yesterday morning at the foot of Carroll street.

Equipped with four nozzles, it delivered 5500 gallons of water a minute—more than any other fire-fighting unit in the city—and the streams went 300 feet or more across the Mississippi river, with some of the water shooting high enough to reach the roofs of the 250-foot Railway Exchange or Missouri Pacific buildings.

Had such a machine been purchased from a factory, the cost would have been about $23,000.

Several years ago the department built another water tower, No. 2, stationed at Third street and Washington avenue. It is 47 feet high and has three nozzles. The new tower, No. 1, stationed at Twenty-second and Wash streets, is 47 feet high.

Fire Chief Alt and Master Mechanic Meier, who built the machine, were among the officials observing the successful test. They also said a salesman demonstrated a hose nozzle which enables a fireman rather than several to handle a line, and which will stand up by itself under pressure.

DETROIT GUNMAN, 4 OTHERS HELD IN WEBB CITY MURDER

Police Seeking Motive in Slaying of Son of A. D. Hatten, Capitalist.

By the Associated Press.

JOPLIN Mo., May 18.—Jimmie Jones, alleged Detroit gunman, was held with four others here today in the murder of Coyne Hatten, 27 years old, son of A. D. Hatten, Webb City (Mo.) capitalist. Police are seeking a motive for the killing.

Jones, alias Watkins, alias Greers, was arrested yesterday. Police said they found him armed with a revolver, three cylinders of which had been partially discharged. Hatten, a graduate of Notre Dame University, was shot Saturday night behind a Webb City drug store. Three shots had taken effect.

Jones refused to discuss the shooting. Mickey Carey, who has served two terms in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, is told of having driven from Joplin to Webb City with Jones and two women. He said he heard three shots fired while he was in the store and ran out to find that Jones had disappeared.

Fay Neely, a Webb City business man, reported he had heard Hatten's name mentioned by persons near the scene of the shooting. Doris Adams, Jones' companion, and three Carthage (Mo.) youths, Oral Irby, John Payne and Howard Malar, were arrested after they had told conflicting stories of being near when the shots were fired.

$4000 WORTH OF STOLEN COPPER WIRE RECOVERED

Four Men Held Suspected of Theft and Receiving Loot Taken

Police have recovered about $4000 worth of copper wire and fittings stolen last week from a box car in the yards of the Illinois Terminal Railroad System in Granite City. Four men are held, suspected of robbery and receiving stolen property.

The men were arrested Saturday in a junk yard on North Ninth street, where they were repairing metal from a truck to weigh it. The truck driver and his helper said they had been hired in Granite City by a man they did not know to haul the metal to St. Louis. The junk dealer and his employee, who were arrested, said they did not know the wire had been stolen.

DR. KLEIN DEFENDS AMERICAN PLAN OF INSTALLMENT BUYING Says It Has Demonstrated, During the Depression, Its Right to Survive.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The American development of installment plan sales was held last night by Assistant Secretary Klein of the Commerce Department to have created no panic. In a speech to a meeting over the Columbia Broadcasting System, Dr. Klein said, "As a system, it has now been put under the most grilling tests by a world depression of almost unparalleled intensity, and it has demonstrated, its right to survive."

"This is one of the bright spots in the business picture today," he continued. "So long as reasonable business credit is available, we can abandon our concern over the future of industries which have associated their operation so closely with installment selling.
We can also set aside the assertions as to danger from the burden of installment debt. The purchasers, on the whole, have demonstrated that they are taking care of it during a difficult business period, when unemployment was rising."

Dr. Klein said installment sales comprised only about 12 per cent of more than $50,000,000,000 in the total.

FORMER EMPLOYEE IDENTIFIED
AS THE SLAYER OF BROKER

Police Think Killing Was Actuated
by San Francisco's Inability to Collect Damages.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—The slayer of Rafael E. Ramano, a broker, yesterday, who later took his own life, was identified last night by police as Louis Rossi, a former employee of the slain man.

Officers following the identification said they are convinced the killing and suicide was the result of an old grudge, and that Rossi was not actuated by revenge because Ramano's daughter aided in committing the Isle of Spokane, Wash., which plotted to bomb a newspaper office.

Police first thought the slayer was a friend of Isle. Last night it was reported Rossi had been unable to collect all of the damages awarded him against Ramano by the State Industrial Accident Commission.

STIRBLING AND MAX SCHMELING TO START WORK FOR TITLE BOUT

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CLEVELAND, May 18.—It is easy to gather from the boxing chapter one hears around Cleveland that Max Schmeling will be the betting choice over Willie (Young) Stirbling when they go into the Stadium arena here the night of July 3 to fight 15 rounds or less for the world's heavyweight championship. That is, Herr Max is sure to be the favorite in Cleveland.

The reason the German will be preferred in these parts is that he was the first man to flatten John the Black. The "rubber man" from this town has been bounced around considerably since Schmeling chilled him, but Max was the first to do it, and when he did it many thousands of fight followers did not think the trick could be repeated in a 10-round fight. The Black Uhlan split Johnny in the ninth round.

Stirbling has muzzled more or less with Black, but never stood him on his ears for a count or made a referee stop a fight, because the rubber ball could bounce no longer. The German has not looked as good against Risi as has Herr Max, and that settles it in Cleveland.

Risko has muzzled more or less with Black, but never stood him on his ears for a count or made a referee stop a fight, because the rubber ball could bounce no longer. The German has not looked as good against Risi as has Herr Max, and that settles it in Cleveland.

Risko's No Dead One.

Schmeling's astonishing upset of the other night when Risi was held well enough in a savage fight with Max Baer, the chesty California, to "knock him out." That was such a good fight that it probably will be used again here.

Risko got through with Baer the big crowd stood up and gave his administration at the stalwart German who was the first to knock out their leader, the baker boy, who still is good.

Promoter Dick Dunn is winning much praise because he is adopting the Rickard system, the system that really made Rickard of profiting the ticket purchases by seeing that they sit in the seats that they sit in the seats that they buy. Dunn is making elaborate arrangements and spending much money to see that every ticket holder occupies properly the night of the fight. It is no small job seating 110,000 people with every person in the exact location called for, but Rickard did it.

Dunn was Rickard's right-hand man in the seating of those great crowds that saw Dempsey and Tunney fight in Philadelphia and Chicago.

Schmeling to Start Training.

The arrival of Max Schmeling May 21 at his Conneaut Lake Park training camp will pep up interest immediately. Schmeling will have one of the fanciest training camps in the history of championship fights and plenty of lively wives around him to stir up the old baldy.

Stirbling and his retinue also are due here Thursday and will go into training quarters at Geneva Lake, which is less than 20 miles from Cleveland and only a few miles from the main bridge racetrack. The Conneaut Lake Park camp is a longer jump, about 80 miles by auto, a good two-hour run. It would be rather a difficult task to make the two camps in the same day.

Charles McManus, Yankee Stadium official and expert on seating and entrance arrangements and the handling of crowds, left for New York last night after a two-day study of the new stadium. McManus will not admit that the new Cleveland Stadium outstrips the Yankee Stadium.

Gold Belt from N. B. A.

The National Boxing Association has seen to it that the gold belt that will be given to the winner of the Schmeling-Stirbling fight. The girdle, of course, will be emblematic of the world's heavyweight laurels. Dunn will have the belt photographed on Johnnny Risko for publicity purposes.

the eye of a competent judge of boxing or physical condition should not be permitted to enter. "In that way we can at least take all proper steps to prevent a repetition of the fatality."

Why Ignore the Rules?

HOOK is right, of course. All common sense rules should safeguard the amateur, because he receives less training, less instruction, and less money than the professional, and consequently pays a heavier penalty.

The local situation is particularly bad for amateurs because the rules that ordinarily safeguard them are not lived up to.

Turmen are predicting that the Derby has seen its best day. The day of other important races for three-year-olds, the reluctance of owners to point their stars for such an early event, and the fact that the race is not at the true Derby distance, are militating against the Derby.

Turmen believe that the American Derby, the Arlington classic, or the Belmont Stakes will soon or later be accepted as the championship race of the year, rather than the Kentucky Derby.

The fight to take away Kentucky's laurels will not be so easy. When the lights went out of the racing situation in this country in 1906, it left Kentucky as the sole state holding out against reform.

During the years that followed the Kentucky Derby monopolized the attention of America, because there were no other big stakes. The glamour and interest that once belonged to the American Derby, with runs at Washington Park, was shifted to Churchill Downs for more than 20 years.

The prestige gained in a quarter of a century there should be hard to wipe out, even though whether a fourth round is necessary or desirable.

It was a merchandising prize that lured young Paladins into boxing. A victory would get him $10 worth of household goods for his mother and his brothers, sisters, and this was badly needed.

He was the sole support, except that his mother was the only one who could do it.

Dick Dunn is winning much praise because he is adopting the Rickard system, the system that really made Rickard of profiting the ticket purchases by seeing that they sit in the seats that they sit in the seats that they buy. Dunn is making elaborate arrangements and spending much money to see that every ticket holder occupies properly the night of the fight. Why Not Play Safe?

THREE-round rule of the A. A. U. has been altered at the order of the Amateur Commissioners for St. Louis, who arbitrarily said that if the fighters disagree the fighters MUST fight a fourth round. This fourth round is precisely the extra strain that may break down the willing but untrained resistance of the weak-kneed.

The sooner the State Commissioners act to protect these young fighters from the consequences of their own courage and zeal, the sooner he will remove the chance of another futility.

Derby Is Threatened.

THIS Kentucky Derby is not what it used to be—it's much better, almost every time. Time was, when the Kentucky Derby was more of a local or at most sectional renown. Today it is not only of nationwide note, it is of international consequence.

Why, they even sold "sweat stakes" on the fifty-seventh running of that race, and that's the limit—in two ways.

In recent years the attendance, the prizes offered, the $1,000,000 for Johnnny Risko for publicity purposes.

Six Postponed Games Left in County League

Although the County League baseball season has reached its official closing date, there are yet to be played quite a few postponed games, with the championship of the Southern Division depending upon their outcome. Three of the postponed games are on the south side, while the north section has the same number. However, one of the latter is likely to be canceled.

STEEL 98 3-4 AS LEADERS DECLINE 1 TO 10 POINTS

Many Prominent Issues Are Down to Lowest Levels in Four Years or More but Selling Is of Only Moderate Volume.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Shares values slipped away swiftly, in to-day's stock market, although selling was in only moderate volume.

The general level of prices was depressed to a new basis for the bear market, many leading issues selling at the lowest levels in four years or longer. Wall street continued to hear rumors of liquidation in this market by London, particularly in the rails, which have been favorite investments.

Furthermore, Wall street was inclined to view as bearish the upholding of the Indiana chain store tax law by the Supreme court, and chain store issues were sold. An upturn during the afternoon was short lived, and the prices were generally lower on the day's lowest. The turnover was in the neighborhood of 2,500,000 shares.

A. T. & T. at 169.

American Telephone tumbled 9 points to 189, the lowest since 1927. U. S. Steel and American Can dropped through the 100 mark with 5-point losses. Steel going to 98%. In the rails, Atchison lost 10, and issues off 4 to 6 included New York Central, Southern Pacific, New Haven, Union Pacific, and Norfolk and Western. American Tobacco "P" was sold 10 cents, 8 points, and miscellaneous issues losing 3 to more than 4 included Northwest National Biscuit, Consolidated Gas, Dupont, and Allied Chemical. Several of the leading industrials and utilities sagged only a point or two, however.

It was pointed out that giving weight to the 40 per cent stock dividend voted by A. T. & T. in 1927, the stock still is selling at a price of around 140 on the old basis.

In commodities the decline in cotton was accelerated by the action of stocks, and futures closed with losses of $1.25 to $1.35 a bale. Wheat was also under pressure, closing 3 to 1½ cents a bushel lower. Corn lost only ½ to ¾ of a cent.

Call money continued abundant, holding officially at 1½ per cent, but freely offered outside at 1. Foreign exchanges were mixed. Sterling cables were up only 1-32, at $4.86 15-32, which was not sufficient to indicate itself, any large withdrawal of funds from New York. French and German currencies eased, but Latin American currencies firmed.

A Prominent Bear Factor.

Failure of the market, as measured by price averages, to meet important support around the bear market low established on April 29, was a distinctly bearish development so far as Wall street sentiment was concerned. The market's failure to penetrate under notable pressure had been penetrating new low ground for several days, while much of the rest of the list has held fairly well. The rails have dipped below the bottom of the bear market of 1907, although still holding above the levels of the post-war deflation.

In connection with rumors of importers coming from abroad, Wall street is awaiting the bi-monthly statement in London, later this week, with considerable interest.

A further cut in export copper prices to correspond with 9-cent-a-pound domestic price resulted in large sales of metal.

S. O. OF KANSAS OMITS THE QUARTER'S DIVIDEND

By the Associated Press.

NEODESHAW, Kan., May 18.—The Standard Oil Co. of Kansas today omitted the second quarterly dividend. The directors said it was felt that cash and quick assets should be conserved in view of the depression.

Dry Goods Market Review.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Cotton goods were quiet and rather easy Monday, continuing lower and more or less downward and more business was developing. Raw silk was in moderate demand for spot delivery. Wool goods opened quiet. Fine denier rayon was in better call.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, always oppose special classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy, or predatory poverty.

The Raymond Gunn Lynching.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
PLEASE allow me to thank your paper for its fairness to the colored people of St. Louis and America with reference to the anti-lynching bill introduced by the Missouri legislature. Your paper stated the bill was introduced in the Legislature only after a mob burned the Raymond Gunn, Negro, near Maryville last Jan. 12, and that Gunn was "charged" with the murder of Miss Velma Collier, a school teacher.

Another paper stated: "The measure was one of several introduced in the assembly as an aftermath of the burning of Raymond Gunn, Negro, on a schoolhouse near Maryville. Mr. several motions, for the brutal attack and murder of Velma Collier, 19-year-old school teacher."

I deeply appreciate the attitude of your paper in saying that Gunn was "charged" with the murder, for no one knows whether he was guilty or not. If he were guilty there is a law in this country, made by white men—the fathers of civilization. If the white men break our own laws, he has set up a very poor example for us to follow. Lynching is not a substitute for law and order.

Lynching must go if the Constitution is to stand.

U. S. FALLS.

Exchanging Wallofs.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
T HAT poet, novelist, critic, spinner of detective yarns and champion heavyweight paradoxer of the world has come and seen and lecture-toured us twice and, in a way, conquered us. Certainly Mr. Cheyenne, we are sure, thinks that we had "a really good fellow," whether we said it in so many or not. And while here he spoke us fair. But safely back in England he tells the home folks that we have no villages in America; none, anyhow, that a person of European tradition and instincts would recognize as such; that our small towns are atrocious; that New York is as terrifying to the natives as to visitors.

I suspect, therefore, that while he was a guest he politely dissembled, and, in a spirit of responsive candor, I think it is permissible to confess that we were guilty of the same considerate deceit. There was never an intimation, in print, so far as I am aware, that any audience found him a "rare" person, a person whose occasional flashes were far too few in the somewhat slovenly discursive ness. Gargantua had his points, to be sure, but, on the platform the expected wow was a flop. Thus, you see, not even a Chesterton can permanently crush truth to earth.

Life and the Means of Living.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

T HE death of Michelson, the great astronomer, gives the world much to ponder that is more important than astronomy. He played an important part in the creation of a new system of weights through the common astronomical observations that follow all such scientific discoveries as the measurement of tides. Yet with ample opportunities to gather money for himself, he died a comparatively poor man.

Few of us understand Michelson's astronomy or physics. Many understand and respect his spiritual attitude toward man. That is the chief credit. It means that, after all, while most of us do not noticeably follow the teachings of the major and the minor prophets in regard to money, we respect those who do and who have the courage to put them into practice.

Secretly we admire men like Michelson, Steinmetz, Tolstoy and the rest of the glorious company of sane thinkers who have had the courage to live above the means of living.

READER.

A Vendor of Ultra Cheese.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

C HEESE has always played a precarious part on the menu. It is demanded or it is abhorred. Cheese holds no middle ground. Those who admire it do so with an adoration close to fanaticism—and that is where Geoffrey Hutchinson of England comes in. Mr. Hutchinson has built a world trade for himself in blue cheeses—that exotic, compelling, though moldy, cheese, that happens but about once in three years in a dairy. But the blue cheese is no stranger to Hutchinson. By his good best known to himself, Hutchinson has eaten cheese—and, preto, in a few months it is blue-ripe—more than ripe—perfect.

Hutchinson, who can smell a cheese and tell which of his clients about the world wants it, lives at No Man's Heath, a place not finding its name in Hutchinson's vocation and not as depopulated as a school. Hutchinson may be accused of riding to fame on the spoils system. It is not true. Hutchinson is a true benefactor to humanity. I nominate him for a place beside Pasteur, Galileo and that anonymous genius who thought up the combination of beer and French fried potatoes.

WHEN INDUSTRY FAILS.

Missouri will spend almost $100,000,000 on her good road system during the next two years. The exact figures, in the appropriation bill signed by Gov. Caulfield, are $92,750,128; they include $350,000 for the State highway police patrol. Of this sum about $70,000,000 will go to labor—mostly unskilled labor; the remainder to financing.

It is a lot of money, but everybody is convinced it is a good investment. Indeed, the State could spend twice or three times that sum to excellent and permanent advantage. And right now would be the best time in the world to do it. Operations on such a scale would provide employment, not only in the construction of roads, but in the production of materials and in all the auditing and administrative phases of enterprise. But the financing of such operations is, of course, the problem.

We were told last week by a Harvard authority that the Government must either build for its present and future needs or introduce the dole system. There is no question in anyone's mind as to the preferable course. Our present and future needs have not been charted, and for that omission the Government is responsible, preceding administrations as well as the administration now in power. We have never prepared ourselves against industrial depressions, notwithstanding their periodic appearance. And, however it might have been in the past, there is no excuse for our unpreparedness in the present situation. Here we are, the richest country in the world, with resources and credit to finance whatever projects are necessary to take the edge off of unemployment and reduce any depression to an interval of recuperation for the return of normal industrial activity.

This is not to imply that long-range planning of a character adequate to keep men at work and at the same time expend the money productively is a simple proposition. It is not. Nobody shares the illusion of the late Mr. Harding that Government today "is a simple thing." Government today is probably the most difficult business there is. It demands of those in power all the qualities indispensable to success in private industry. Government is the biggest of business. Government is today making enormous demands on its citizens, in the way of taxes, in order to perform the many functions it has assumed. Surely people who give so much to government have a right to expect proportionate returns from government. The Government does not owe any man a living, but the Government is, we believe, obligated to apply all its ability and all its assets to the task of providing people with the means of making a living when private industry temporarily fails.

That seems to us to be the common sense of the present emergency, which students of business, like Dean Donham of Harvard, and captains of industry, like President Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, construe as "the challenge to capitalism."

TO REQUIRE A MAN TO PAY THE TAXES THAT ALL OTHER MEN WOULD HAVE TO PAY CANNOT POSSIBLY BE MADE AN INSTRUMENT TO ATTACK HIS INDEPENDENCE AS A JUDGE. I SEE NOTHING IN THE PURPOSE OF THIS CLAUSE OF THE CONSTITUTION TO INDICATE THAT JUDGES WERE TO BE A PRIVILEGED CLASS, FREE FROM BEARING THEIR SHARE OF THE COST OF THE INSTITUTIONS UPON WHICH THEIR WELL-BEING, IF NOT THEIR LIFE, DEPENDS.

BY ANALOGY SIMILAR TO THAT OF THE DECISION, THE PROCESS MIGHT BE CARRIED A STEP FARTHER TO EXEMPT JUDGES FROM PROPERTY TAX. IT IS DIFFICULT NOT TO BE IMPRESSED BY JUSTICE HOLMES' LOGIC.

WAIT UNTIL JUNE.

IT IS A GOOD THING FOR THE HOOVER ADMINISTRATION THAT SIR JAMES JEANS' RECENT LECTURE AT CAMBRIDGE WAS NOT WIDELY REPORTED IN THIS COUNTRY. IF IT HAD BEEN, OUR SCHOOL BOY POPULATION WOULD BE UP IN ARMS. THE DISTINGUISHED SCIENTIST SAID THERE PROBABLY WAS A GOD AND THAT "HE IS RATHER IT IS A SPIRIT OF PURE MATHEMATICS." THE BARE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH A DILEMMA IS ENOUGH TO MAKE A MATHEMATICAL ATHLETE OF EVERY BOY WHO HAS COMPUTED THE COST OF PAPERING A ROOM OR FIGURED CUBE ROOT. AT THAT, A MATHEMATICAL GOD WOULD'NT BE AS YOUNG AS THOSE OTHER KINDS. THINK OF HAVING OUR DESTINIES RULED OVER BY A DESPICABLE SPIRIT OF PURE CHEMISTRY WHICH DEMANDED DAILY BALANCINGS OF LONG CHEMICAL EQUATIONS. STILL WORSE WOULD BE A HIGH ESSENCE OF PHYSICS WHICH REFUSED TO ACCEPT EVEN 1 PER CENT OF ERROR IN EXPERIMENTS, AND WORSE THAN THAT, A GREAT HISTORICAL BEING WITH A PENCHANT FOR MEMORIZING DATES. BEYOND A FOREIGN LANGUAGE DEITY WITH AN INSATIABLE APPETITE FOR IRREGULAR VERBS AND IDIOMS, WE DARE NOT SPECULATE.

IF WE ARE PRIVILEGED TO INTERPRET THE VIEW OF YOUNG AMERICA ON SIR JAMES' POSTULATE, IT IS THAT HE REFRAINS FROM DEVELOPING HIS THEORY—AT LEAST UNTIL SIX MONTHS.

ANOTHER IMMIGRATION BLUNDER.

FOLLOWING ITS SUMMARY RAID IN NEW YORK CITY AND THE DEPORTATION OF THE AMERICAN-BORN MRS. LARSH AND HER FOUR CHILDREN, THE IMMIGRATION SERVICE AGAIN HAS SUPPLIED AMMUNITION FOR ITS CRITICS. THIS TIME EDWARD ARGOT, A 17-YEAR-OLD NEWSBOY OF POLISH BIRTH, IS THE VICTIM. AFTER HIS ARREST LAST SEPTEMBER FOR ILLEGAL ENTRY FROM CANADA, EFFORTS TO DEPORT HIM TO POLAND FAILED BECAUSE NO BIRTH RECORD WAS FOUND. AFTER THAT, HE STAYED IN JAIL AT DETROIT FOR NINE MONTHS—FORGOTTEN, THE NEWS DISPATCH SAYS, BY IMMIGRATION OFFICERS. ALIEN ROUND-UPS MAY BE LAID TO EXCESSIVE ZEAL, AND DEPORTATION OF AN IMPOVERISHED WIDOW TO A PASSION FOR TECHNICALITIES, BUT "FORGETTING" A YOUTHFUL PRISONER WHILE HE WAITS NINE MONTHS IN A JAIL'S UNWHOLEsome ATMOSPHERE IS NOTHING SHORT OF INCOMPETENCE. THE IMMIGRATION SERVICE IS STEADILY GOING AHEAD TO PROVE ALL THE POINTS, AND THEN SOME, THAT REUBEN OPPENHEIMER MADE AGAINST IT IN HIS REPORT FOR THE WICKERSHAM COMMISSION.

GOV. CROSS AND BOSS RORABACK.

GOV. CROSS OF CONNECTICUT, DEMOCRAT, WAS ELECTED LAST FALL OVER THE FEDERAL OPPOSITION OF HENRY RORABACK. THAT GENTLEMAN, BEING G. O. P. BOSS OF THE NUTMEG STATE, IS PRESIDENT OF THE CONNECTICUT LIGHT & POWER CO., AND WAS CONSIDERABLY ALARMED OVER CANDIDATE CROSS' PLEDGE TO STRICHER REGULATION OF PUBLIC UTILITIES. UNABLE TO PREVENT HIS ELECTION, RORABACK USED HIS INFLUENCE WITH THE REPUBLICAN LEGISLATURE AND HAS SO FAR PREVENTED THE GOVERNOR FROM REORGANIZING THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION AS HE HAD PLANNED.

GOV. ROOSEVELT OF NEW YORK SUCCEEDED IN PUSHING HIS POWER PROGRAM THROUGH A REPUBLICAN LEGISLATURE, BUT HE HAD THE ASSISTANCE OF POWERFUL PRESSURE FROM THE PEOPLE OF NORTHERN NEW YORK. GOV. CAULFIELD OF MISSOURI WORKED SUCCESSFULLY WITH A DEMOCRATIC LEGISLATURE. BUT IN NEITHER STATE IS THE REPUBLICAN PARTY SO FIRMLY INTRANCED AS IN CONNECTICUT, NOR IS IT EITHER STATE DOMINATED BY SO PUSSANT A BOSS. IT IS JUST POSSIBLE, HOWEVER, THAT RORABACK IS PUSHING HIS ADVANTAGE A LITTLE BIT TOO FAR.

CONNECTICUT DOES NOT LIGHTLY ELECT DEMOCRATS TO ANY OFFICE, MUCH LESS THE GOVERNORSHIP. GOV. CROSS' SUCCESSION WAS SYMPTOMATIC OF A PROFOUND REVERSAL OF FEELING. THE GOVERNOR'S INABILITY, BECAUSE OF THE OBSTRUCTIONIST TACTICS OF A RORABACK-CONTROLLED LEGISLATURE, TO REDEEM HIS CAMPAIGN PROMISES CONSTITUTES A DIRECT CHALLENGE TO THE VOTERS. IT IS UP TO THEM TO PROVIDE GOV. CROSS WITH A LEGISLATURE OF HIS OWN POINT OF VIEW.

CARNOUSTIE.

EVERYBODY KNOWS THAT THE BRITISH OPEN IS TO BE PLAYED AT CARNoustie next month, but where is Carnoustie, and what sort of course have they there, are questions that have been on almost everyone's lips. Those questions are happily answered in a modest brochure, with maps, photographs, descriptions of landscapes and hole-to-hole travolges of the course, with quaint bits of legend and tales of the golf. Those who still remember their Sir Walter will experience something of a thrill when they learn that Carnoustie is in that Angus country where Marmon shook a fist under the proud Douglas nose.

AND IF THOU SAIDST I AM NOT PEER

LOWLAND OR HIGHLAND, FAR OR NEAR, LORD ANGUS, THOU HADST LED.

YES, HISTORY WILL BE LOOKING DOWN ON THE GOLFERS ON THE GREEN MORNING AND BILLOWY AFTERNOONS OF JUNE—HISTORY AND THE NOTABILITIES OF BLOOD RED MYTHS AND GALLOPING BALLADRY. AND, AFTER THE GAME, SO THE BROCHURE SAYS, THE WOMEN WOULD FIND THAT

NORTHAMPTON, Mass.,
May 18.A WORLD conference on all
A ver would do no harm and might do some good. Like so many other commodities, silver has been cheapened by the increased use of machinery and invention in its production.This process has been going on for centuries. Obviously a metal that fluctuates so much in value is not well adapted to be used for a unit of value of money. But as a token of exchange it is exceedingly convenient. That use might possibly be increased. Some method of control similar to the proposed system for sugar may well be considered. But all such plans are tentative and make shifts. When too much human effort goes into producing one commodity we get what we call oversupply. We do not need to study that supply for it is already ample. What we really need to study is how to produce more of other commodities by those who are now idle. The basic problem is the way to do it. Of these people who have been engaged in overproduction into some form of new industries whose output can be exchanged for the present over-supply. A conference on that subject would be of fundamental

TWO MEN TIED UP IN $2250 ROBBERY OF SAFE AT THE ZOO

Watchman and Janitor Bound While Combination Is Knocked From Primate House Vault.

A private watchman and janitor were bound and held prisoners for more than an hour last night while five men knocked the combination from a safe in the Primate House in Forest Park, obtaining $2250. The money, representing receipts from concession stands in the park, was insured, according to George P. Vierheller, director of the Zoo.

The watchman, Samuel Arnett, 4556 Field Avenue, had left his residence in the building and was sitting in front of the north side with Thomas Hayes, 4262 W. Cook avenue, Negro janitor. Two men, who held them up, were soon joined by three others, and the employees were tied in a first floor corridor and guarded by one of the robbers while the others went to the office on the second floor and opened the safe.

After the robbers had left, Arnett and Hayes were able to free themselves. They were able to give police only a meager description of the robbers.

Five Men Held Up Attending Meeting at Synagogue.

Five men were held up early yesterday while attending a meeting at the Chevra Kadisha B'nai Yeshur Temple, 4301 Page boulevard, and robbed of $218 and jewelry valued at $95. Those reporting losses were: Morris Safron, 4225 Melchior Avenue; George Lieberman, 4222 Page; Samuel Novack, 5330 Wells Avenue; Max Rudin, 4311 Page, $85; and Joseph Geller, 4242 Page, $70, and a diamond pin and ring.

Police arrested Joseph Bonmarito, 24 years old, a chauffeur, at his home, 3882 Utah place, who he was identified by each of the five men but denied the charge. A robbery was later located today.

Frederick Hoppe, owner of a grocery at 2501 Dodier street, and his son, Howard, were held up by two armed men and robbed of about $400 when they opened the store about 6 o'clock this morning. Hoppe said the money was Saturday's receipts, which he had intended to take to a bank later.

Henry Ostrow, proprietor of a grocery at 2554 Market street, reported the robbery to his bookkeeper, William Corrington, 3122 Adams street, were held up for $130 as they were leaving the store.

Laodore Berger, 4623 Page boulevard, driving his automobile at Burn and Cote Brilliante avenues, was stopped by two armed men who robbed him of $28, a $50 diamond ring, a $45 watch and an $18 tie pin.

After putting their automobile in the garage at the rear of their home, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Molos, 5862 Maffitt avenue, were held up by two men who took $275 and a $25 ring from Molos and a $165 ring and $50 watch from his wife.

Two of three young men who were sitting in a bench at Lafayette Park were robbed of their clothing by two armed men who expressed displeasure with their concert with guitar and clarinet and also took the musical instruments and their money. Freeman White, 1705 Carroll street, and Thomas Moore, 1529 Pickler street, were left in the park without clothing. Their companion, Burton May, 1727 Waverly place, who was robbed of $2, went to their homes and brought them coats and trousers.

officers might be powerless to interfere in any legal way.

Everybody downtown seems to have heard the story, but few could, or would give any definite statement as to the source of their information. Several prominent citizens became militant when informed of the rumor and promised uncompromising warfare against any actual attempt to promote such a club here.

Those on the inside, who refused to allow their names to be used at this time, would not divulge the name of the "prominent doctor," but stated positively that the club would be opened and that it would operate without interference from the law. Developments are expected hourly and startling disclosures may be made within the next few days. Anxiously we watch.

EGGS ARE NUGGETS OF NOURISHMENT

Housewives have been rejoicing lately at the low price of eggs because one of the most valuable sources of nutriment for the human system is the hen's egg.

In addition to the desirable chemical composition of eggs for food purposes, they have the great advantage of rapid and easy digestibility. This is particularly true of the yolk, either raw or cooked.

The value of eggs in the daily diet is now widely recognized and recommended by authorities on nutrition. The egg is rich in protein, which nourishes the muscles, organs and skin. From no source is a more healthy blood supply found in abundance in eggs. The egg yolk is probably the best known food source of this material. Eggs are also rich in calcium and phosphorus, the chief constituents of bone. Calcium is not generally found in common foods, as its presence in eggs makes that food particularly desirable, especially for growing children.

It seems that there are literally hundreds of ways of serving this wholesome and nutritious food, yet most home cooks use at most a dozen different methods. The following recipes will increase the list and bring praise to the cook.

In cooking eggs in any manner keep in mind that a low temperature is best. Too much or too high a heat tends to make eggs rather indigestible.

Scrambled Eggs.

Savory scrambled eggs make a good meal, night or day. For four people, melt two tablespoons butter or any fat in a shallow pan, add one tablespoon each of minced onion and green pepper and cook slowly for five minutes without browning. Then stir in one cup undiluted canned tomato soup and six beaten eggs. Stir constantly over a slow fire until thickened and creamy. Season with a little salt and pepper (not much, as the eggs are well seasoned) and arrange on slices of hot toast on a platter. Garnish with watercress and serve very hot.

Omelet Souffle.

Omelet souffle makes an excellent luncheon dish and when served with plain or a fruit salad, or hot rolls, makes a good meal.

Melt three tablespoons butter or cooking fat and stir in four tablespoons flour. When blended stir in one and one-quarter cups milk and stir constantly until thick and smooth. Remove from the fire, add one teaspoon salt, a little pepper and one-fourth teaspoon paprika. Cool slightly and stir in the beaten yolks of five eggs. When mixed well, add a little beaten cream, white and pour into a well-greased deep baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees—for 45 minutes or until firm, well puffed and brown. Serve at once.

This dish may be varied in flavor by adding one tablespoon chopped chives to the sauce before adding the egg whites, or by spreading the bottom of the baking dish with a layer of raspberry jam or any preferred jelly.

Anchovy Eggs.

This is another variation of scrambled eggs. Toast four rounds of toast, butter lightly and spread each with a thin layer of anchovy paste. Beat six eggs lightly and add one-half cup milk, one-fourth teaspoon paprika and one-half teaspoon salt. Melt three tablespoons butter in a frying pan, add the eggs and stir constantly over a slow fire until thickened and creamy. Pile on the toast and serve plain or with a tomato or mushroom sauce.

Peached eggs, allowing one for each round of toast, may be used instead of the scrambled eggs and mushroom sauce poured over the eggs before serving. Mock hollandaise sauce is good. The mushroom sauce is good but the mushroom sauce is not liked.

Eggs à la Richelle.

Cook one pound of small link sausage until brown, using a deep frying pan. When done remove the sausages to a hot platter and poach eggs in the hot sausage fat, allowing one or two to each serving. Keep the heat very low under the pan and as the egg whites set, roll them over the yolk with a fork. When the eggs are set, what similar to sausages in shape. Arrange them on the platter with the sausages and pour tomato sauce over all. Serve very hot for luncheon or supper.

Shirred Eggs.

Melt three tablespoons ham or bacon fat in a pan, add three tablespoons minced onion and cook slowly until the onions are tender but not browned. Then add six mushrooms, peeled and sliced, three fresh tomatoes cut in slices, or one cup canned tomatoes, one teaspoon salt and a little pepper. Cover and cook slowly for 15 minutes. Butter four shirred-egg dishes and divide the sauce between them. Break two eggs into each dish and bake in a moderate oven for eight minutes or until the eggs are set. If the dishes and the sauce are both hot, the eggs may cool in less time. Sprinkle with minced parsley and serve hot.

Then add six mushrooms, peeled and sliced, three fresh tomatoes cut in slices, or one cup canned tomatoes, one teaspoon salt and a little pepper. Cover and cook slowly for 15 minutes.

THE EGG SERVICE

Multiplicity of Egg Dishes Solve This Problem.

While eggs are inexpensive, plan to serve them often for any meal of the day.

Plain or puffy omelets, the more flavorful Spanish omelet, the savory cheese omelet, creamy scrambled eggs served on toast that has been spread with anchovy or baster paste, or scrambled eggs mixed with chicken livers, with mushrooms or any vegetable; hard-boiled eggs cut in half, with the yolks removed and then mashed with little salmon or white fish or sardines, well seasoned and stuffed back in the whites and served with a hot cream sauce; all these offer suggestions for reasonable and appetizing lunch, breakfast or supper menus.

Romaine Salad.

Pick over romaine. Cut each head in quarters. Arrange sections of oranges and pears on romaine. Serve with French dressing and garnish with pickled walnuts.

EX-MAYOR KIEL FOREMAN

OF FEDERAL GRAND JURY

Julian Paris Comments on Tendency of Congress to "Grab Jurisdiction."

Henry W. Kiel, former Mayor, was sworn in today as foreman of the new Federal grand jury. Thirteen jurors were summoned for service and Julian Paris explained he would give the jury to the legal maximum of 23. Only seven asked to be excused.

In his charge to the jury Judge Paris commented on the tendency in recent years to transfer new powers to the Federal Government, some people seem to have the idea, he said, "that Federal grand juries and courts have jurisdiction over all manner of crimes. That is not true—yet. I will admit that Congress has been reaching out and grabbing every bit of jurisdiction it can get its hands on and the Federal Government may yet obtain jurisdiction over all crimes. The world is still young."

The jury will consider several cases involving violation of the Jones law. In this connection Judge Paris remarked that the eighteenth amendment was the first example in the history of the United States of the states transferring to the Federal Government a purely police power.

St. Louisans on the jury are C. D. Campbell, Claude R. Foose, Robert E. Grote, Fred E. Kalleher, H. D. McCabe, Joseph E. Muckermann, Julian C. Paulus, C. Smith, Morris Steinbaum, L. H. Usselman and William B. Walsh.

Those from other cities: John Byrne, Mexico; William Cauthorn, Rush Hill; Sam Coffman, W. F. Houk, Newburg; Frank Ifrig, St. Peters; Herman Larke, Steelville; H. J. Lloyd, Belle; J. H. Reed, Wellsville, and J. E. Roland, St. James.

RANGOON, Burma, May 18.—Lieutenant-Colonel H. T. Morshead, who twice took part in expeditions attempting the ascent of Mount Everest, was found dead near Maynoo, Burma, his horse had turned riderless and bloody from a ride yesterday morning.

Searching parties which were sent out immediately for a time were held in vain, but early today they found the body and took it to the hospital at Maynoo. Advices from Mayo did not disclose the cause of death.

Lieutenant-Colonel Morshead was director of the Burma Section Survey of India.

YOUNG WOMAN, MAN DROWN TRYING TO SWIM TO SHORE

Numbered by Cold; Boat Filled with Water During a Squall.

By the Associated Press.

SPECULATOR, N. Y., May 18.—Miss Elizabeth Eveleth, 24 years old, and Wayne S. Kobb, 26, Livingston, Mont., drowned Saturday in Sacandaga Lake while trying to swim ashore from a sailboat filled with water. Miss Eveleth was the daughter of Charles E. Eveleth, a vice president of the General Electric Co. at Schenectady, of which Kobb was an employee.

With Leslie Clover, also a General Electric employee, Miss Eveleth and Kobb had waited in the water-filled boat, which was non-sinkable, for about an hour, hoping to drift near shore or to attract the attention of another boat.

The boat filled during a squall. When some 400 yards from shore they finally decided to beat the cold water. They were within 100 yards of shore when Miss Eveleth and Kobb were numbed by the cold and sank before Clover could aid them.

The men drove, they said, about 20 miles out on Lemay Ferry road and stopped on a side road. Three men took them from the first pair and later two others took them from the second group, the women said.

KEEP KISSABLE

... WITH OLD GOLDS

OLD GOLDS were created to give you THROAT-EASE . . . as well as a more delightful tasting cigarette. But the makers also considered your breath, your lips, your teeth, as well as your THROAT.

They created a pure-tobacco cigarette . . . free of coriander and other greasy artificial flavorings* that burn into clinging, staining, breath-tainting vapors.

To avoid unpleasant aftertaste, smoke pure-tobacco OLD GOLDS. Their clean, sun-ripened, natural-flavored tobaccos will be like honey to your THROAT. And they leave no objectionable odors either on your breath or clothing, or in the room.

HERE'S THE PROOF*

Open up a pack of OLD GOLDS and smell the tobacco. Do the same with any other cigarette. Judge for yourself which has the natural, pleasant, all-tobacco aroma. It's a favor to your family and friends, as well as to yourself, to smoke NATURAL-FLAVORED, pure-tobacco OLD GOLDS.

afternoon with all operations under close regulation by the Government.

By the Associated Press.

VATICAN CITY, May 18.—Rioting and incendiarism in Spain in the past 10 days, which churches and cathedrals have been sacked and burned, are declared by Pope Pius XI as "sacrileges against God and holy religion." It was the Pontiff's first public utterance on the subject, to a group of Spanish pilgrims, headed by the auxiliary Bishop of Valencia yesterday.

"What can we tell you," the Pope said, "at such a distance, with such unimportant and misleading news? We are sorry to say, however, that there is a certainty of many unhappy and sorrowful things."

"It is certain also that there is a very great responsibility on those who have caused these unhappy things and on those who have done these unhappy things. Very great also is the responsibility of those who have not hindered these places and have not hindered them."

"Certainly conditions in Spain already were too much compromised and menaced by many evils without need that thereby added these violences, these sacrileges against God and the holy religion."

The Pope added a message of mercy: "We pray God," he said, "that He will reply with His justice to these provocations but that He, returning to your country, say that the Pope prays for Spain, as you pray for Spain. The pastors pray, your clergy pray, and so also do the faithful there."

Everything is in the hands of God, the Pope added, and the hope for the future lies with God. "The hand of God is always ready," he said, "and from one moment to another can show itself and change everything. We have, therefore, faith that we are in the hands of God because nothing better could be hoped for. It is with these sentiments that we give you that benediction which you have come to ask even in these sad days."

"We hope these beautiful banners of your faith which have returned to shine with their ancient glory after so much harm done to your religion and to your country."

"The benefit of religion is a fact of supreme value to a country and, even if there are other benefits of importance and worthy of interest, there is none with more profound interest and importance, both for country and for religion."

After expressing his affection, he blessed all those present.

It was reported today that Cardinal Segura, primate of Spain, had asked the Pope to permit him to resign the archiepiscopal see at Toledo and live in Rome as cardinal of the Curia.

In that position he would succeed the Cardinal, Mgr. D. Val, who also was a Spaniard, and once served as papal secretary of state. Cardinal Segura left Spain last week to come here for a conference with the pontiff.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., May 18.—Dr. Samuel Wilson Parr, 74 years old, professor emeritus at the University of Illinois, and discoverer of ILLUM, a platinum substitute, died Saturday of heart disease.

He is credited with saving large sums in industry, its acid-resisting properties being used to prolong usefulness of boilers.

Speaking From Experience

by MARTHA CARR

DEAR MRS. CARR: I enjoy your column and feel that I can come with my problems, too.

I have been going with a young boy whose trade is paper hanging. He isn't working steadily now. He told me a few nights ago that around this time next year I will have my engagement ring and then about June or July he hopes to have me for his wife. This is my problem:

I am hoping to have a church wedding and I don't think my parents can afford it. We are both Catholics and agree on everything, but when I told him that I wanted to have a church wedding he scorned the idea. My mother doesn't like him. But she doesn't often like those I like. She says he and I will never get a church wedding and I want to show her that I do.

Please tell me what to do. I do so much want to dress as a bride. Do you think I shouldn't have a church wedding? UNDECIDED.

I think it very natural for a young girl to cherish the sentiment which attaches to the bridal dress.

And I do think you could have a bridal dress and a church wedding, too, without going into much expense. You would look just as pretty and be just as much a bride in a little white organdy or swiss with a tiarion or tulip veil as in the most elaborate robes of satin and ceremonial lace. Besides, you don't have a "big" church wedding; in your circumstances that would mark you as a snob and a person of vulgar taste. To do things beyond your financial ability creates all kinds of unkind comment and makes trouble in your home. Even if you are not married in the church you can still have a church wedding, of course do even if you had only witness, you can wear your bridal dress and go to your priest in his church study or before one of the smaller altars or perhaps in the chapel.

But, do you know, it is not customary for the boy to pay any of the expenses of the wedding, except the engagement and wedding ring and the offering to the priest who marries you? The girl's family do the rest; unless the groom has attendants, which he probably will not have.

DEAR MARTHA: I have been following your column for a long time and have come to you with my trouble: I should like a remedy for biting nails. If you know of one, please print it as it may help some other boy or girl.

FERIN.

This is a distressing habit, and early in life is usually associated with some form of nervousness or instability. With young children the parents use what is known as the "elbow cuff," a surgical appliance which keeps the hands away from the mouth. But if the habit is allowed to continue until the person is grown up, some kind of reminder is about all that can be done. If there is an underlying nervous disorder or the general health is not up to par, it should be looked after immediately. You can try keeping a little bottle of harmless antiseptic on your dressing table and one in your pocket. When you are biting your hands, dip the finger tips in the bottle.

You can get one which has a very little carbolic acid, or a touch of bitter ales or quinine in it. The smell or the taste will instantly be a reminder. The germs you get from nail biting is a very serious risk and your hands are practically ruined to touch so you must use every bit of will power you have to stop it. Probably all you need is the reminder, as so many seem to do it unconsciously.

FERIN.

CHAUFFEUR

IN THE LATTER PART OF THE 18TH CENTURY, A HORDE OF BRIGANDS OVERRAN CERTAIN SECTIONS OF FRANCE, PILLAGING VILLAGES AND KILLING PEOPLE. ONE OF THEIR PRACTICES WAS TO BURN THE FEET OF THEIR VICTIMS. FOR THIS REASON, THEY WERE CALLED 'CHAUFFEURS', A WORD WHICH MEANS ONE WHO HEATS. IT'S NO WONDER THAT WHEN THOSE FUNNY OLD ONE-LUNG AUTOMOBILES WERE FIRST INTRODUCED, THEIR OPERATORS WERE GIVEN THE SAME NAME.

Cream of Chicken Soup.

A nice soup to make when having chicken salad or a la king, as we always have chicken stock at hand. To four cups of chicken broth add one-fourth cup uncooked rice, salt and pepper. Cook in a double boiler until the rice is soft, taking almost two hours. When soft add one and one-half cups cream or rich milk and cook until hot. No thickening will be required as the rice will make the soup the right consistency and give it a delightful flavor.

Rhubarb and Orange Preserve.

Make the most of the healthful rhubarb while it is in season. Two cups finely cut rhubarb, four oranges, three cups sugar. Use the pulp, juice and grated rind of the oranges and put into a preserving kettle with the cut rhubarb and sugar. Bring to a boil, skim, and continue cooking slowly until the jam thickens when tested on a saucer. Pour into glasses and when cold, seal.

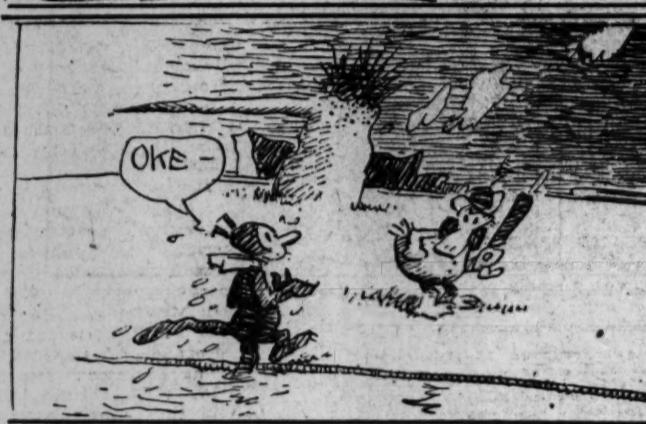

Use a little salt to remove stains from fine china.

Technical Motions by De-

Denying Jurisdiction Rejected Decisively.

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 19.—The State Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment for the trial of State Treasurer Larry Brunk, having rejected moves by the defense to throw out the case without a hearing on its merits, settled down today to the actual trial. The opening statements of counsel, Representative Rush H. Limbaugh of St. Louis, for the prosecution, and John G. Madden of Kansas City for the defense, were heard this morning.

Madden had two technical moves, one a plea to the jurisdiction of the Senate which was defeated by a vote of 27 to 3, and the other a motion for consideration of his motion to quash the articles of impeachment, which failed by a vote of 21 to 12.

If the plea to the jurisdiction had been successful the trial would have ended and the submission of any evidence to the defense to Brunk had been considered there would have been a possibility that some of the charges would have been eliminated and the House forced to proceed with only a part of its case.

Only three Senators, all Republicans, supported the proposal to quit Brunk without even hearing the evidence. They were Irvin Grimes, a lawyer of Sedalia; Aaron Richkop, a Methodist minister, of Cleveland, and P. S. Terry, a lawyer of Festus. All the remaining Senators except two who were absent, voted to hear the evidence.

Technical Motions Fail. The plea to the jurisdiction was based on a contention that the state was not legally in session at the trial. Madden urged that a recess taken by the House of Representatives from May 5 to 14, and the fact that the Senate was only technically in session between May 2 and yesterday, constituted an adjournment of the Legislature sine die under the Constitution.

The Constitution provides that an adjournment of the Legislature for more than three days shall be considered a sine die adjournment, and that neither House of the Legislature shall adjourn for more than two days without the consent of the other. Madden gave the House permission to recess until May 1, and the Senate was held to be technically in session by being called to order every third day, with only one Senator present. Madden contended this made the adjournment illegal.

The action on the motion to adjourn was considered of much importance, as it came up for consideration. Representative George P. Clay, chairman of the House managers, opposed taking any action on it, holding that the practice in impeachment cases was to cause consideration to all dilatory motions and motions. The House managers were particularly anxious about taking up the motion for adjournment, as several of the nine defense witnesses might be eliminated by the defense's motion to quash the trial on technical grounds, and they would then have to submit much of their evidence.

The action supporting Clay's motion will result in the placing of all the evidence before the Senate, which will then be in a position to consider the case as a Prosecution's Statement. In his opening statement, Limbaugh, after relating the origin of the impeachment trial and the history of the principal case in America, asserted there was no other method by which a derelictive official in Missouri could be removed from office.

He replied to the position taken by the defense in preliminary motions that Brunk could not be convicted, because the defense alleged
